Commodity Update Webcast

Register now for this exclusive Commodity webcast led by Joe Victor, the vice president of Allendale, Inc., a leading commodities firm.

The third RFA Commodity Update Webcast, featuring speaker Joe Victor, the vice president of a leading commodities firm Allendale, Inc., is scheduled for July 23, 2009.

The title of the presentation will be 2009 US Grain/Oilseed Acreage Create Division. Weather patterns have resulted in optimum growing conditions in some regions while other growing areas are experiencing a disastrous situation. Joe will discuss how and why this situation should affect the prices you pay and the strategies you should employ.

Joe will give the latest projections on wheat markets that will affect pasta products; soy oil markets that affect mayonnaise and dressings, and corn that affect everything. Joe will also address how the world's political situation could result in cost increases and decreases. He will also recommend simple approaches to risk management practices you can employ in your operation.
